

The American Idea: The Best of The Atlantic Monthly: 150 Years of Writers

By Vare, Robert, Editor.

Broadway. 1 Paperback(s), 2007. soft. Book Condition: New. "What is 'the American idea'?" asked the Atlantic Monthly's editors in 2006. "It is the fractious, maddening approach to the conduct of human affairs that values equality despite its elusiveness, that values democracy despite its debasement, that values pluralism despite its messiness." A year later they offered this anniversary collection of the magazine's best and most influential writing. "Readers can see the nation through the eyes of its finest writers, such as Mark Twain, Henry James, Oliver Wendell Holmes, Walt Whitman, Martin Luther King Jr., Helen Keller and, from more recent days, William Least Heat-Moon, Garrison Keillor and William Langewiesche, all of whose work shows up in this remarkable anthology." Chicago Tribune 647.
